The homepage of the website gives us basic information about the company including when it was found and who are its founders.

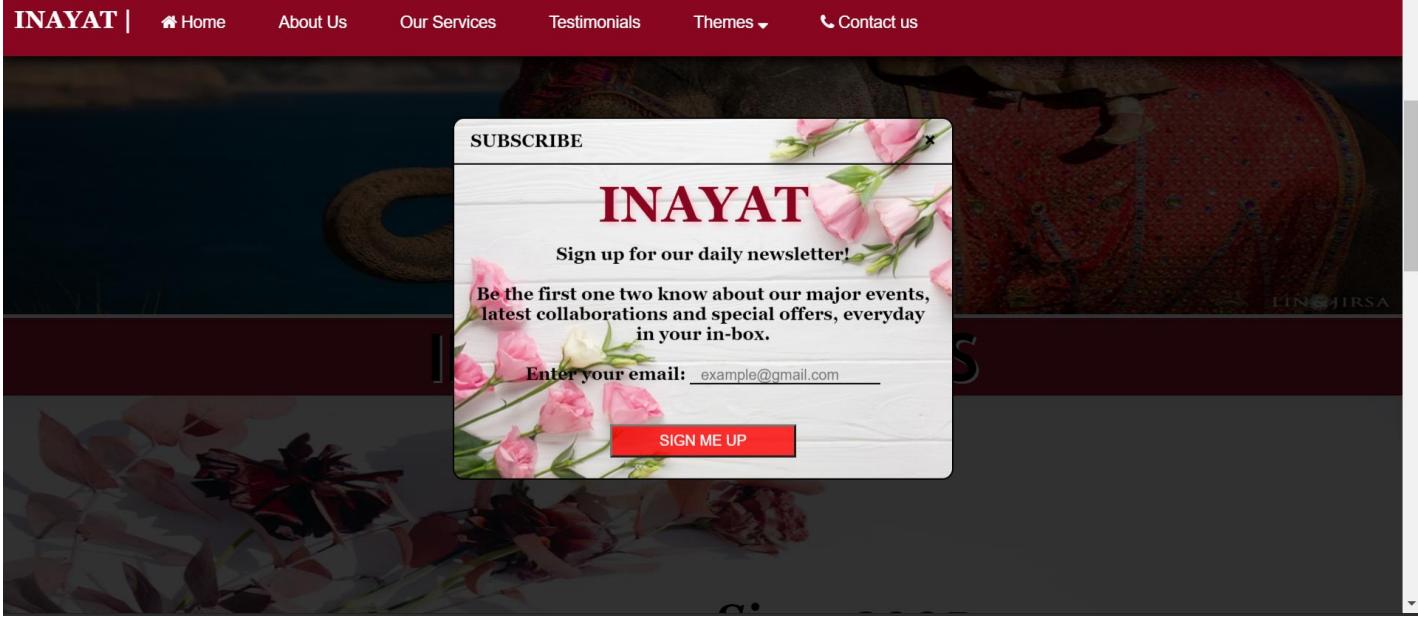

This webpage contains the navigation bar, 5 divisions, a modal, and the footer of the page.

1. The navigation bar is used to link to other pages of the website. On hovering on top of a link, the background color is made to change to white with an opacity of 0.8. The navigation bar is a constant feature throughout the website and its position is made sticky to make the website user friendly.
2. The five divisions are as follows-
 - In the first division, there is a small paragraph about the company written on top of a picture. Using CSS property of position: absolute; , the text was positioned on top of the picture accordingly. It also contains a link to the company's "About Us" page.
 - The second division includes animation used to change the background color from hex value #890620 to #FFF. This division contains the title of the company.
 - The third division also uses CSS property position: absolute to write text on top of the picture. This division tells when the company was found.
 - The fourth division contains four pictures of the founders of the website. They are made to float next to each other by making it relative to the parent division and then float right.
 - The fifth division contains a button clicking on which the user sees a modal.

3. The footer section contains 3 photo links that can redirect to the Facebook, Instagram and twitter handle of the company. This section is same throughout the website.
4. One of the interesting features of our homepage is the subscribe us modal which basically asks the user to subscribe for the company's newsletters if they want routine updates.

Screenshot of the modal:

- This is a modal that is created using HTML, CSS and JavaScript.
- A separate division is made in which modal is designed and then is positioned in the center. The division is given background-color: rgba(0,0,0,0.8) and it's display by default is none.
- Modal is given a positive z-index of 10.
- JavaScript functions like getElementById(), addEventListener() and query Selector() are used and the display property of the division containing the modal is changed if the interested users click on the 'Yes, please!' button and the modal is made visible.
- If the cross button is clicked, through JavaScript the display of this division is again shifted to none.

There is also a favicon of the company's logo which can be seen in the title bar.

Another feature of website is the preloader.

Screenshot of the preloader:

- Our website is equipped with a preloader which is created using HTML, CSS and JavaScript.
- A separate div is made in which a gif has been centrally positioned using CSS.
- The onload feature of JS is used in which this preloader is shown until the webpage has been completely loaded.
- This makes the website look more interactive.

Know more about the themes of wedding:

{ RAJWADI }

{ BOLLYWOOD }

{ BEACH }

{ WOODLAND }

{ FAIRYTALE }

This webpage contains the navigation bar and the footer which is the same as all the other webpages.

This webpage contains a slideshow of images, 6 divisions of text and images and another division containing photo links that redirect to the subsequent wedding theme webpage on the bottom.

1. The slideshow was made using CSS. In this slideshow, the images are replaced using animation property and change each second.
2. There are 2 class created to display text on the left and image floating on the right and vice-versa. These 2 classes are used alternatively in 4 divisions containing paragraphs on the information of the company and some .png's.
3. The last division contains 5 photo links that redirects the user to the themes of wedding offered by the company. On hovering on each image, the user can see shadow effect bordering the image.

Our Services:

OUR SERVICES

INAYAT | Home About Us Our Services Testimonials Themes Contact us

The Wedding Planners offer three all-encompassing services related to weddings. In fact, we love all things weddings to such an extent that we take pleasure in managing all aspects in a bid to make your special day an extraordinary one that will be forever remembered. Looking to plan a multi-day celebration with elaborate and regal touches? Do you want your wedding to take place at a destination of your choice but you have not idea how to go about it? Or, maybe you just need some help to pop the question in the most beautiful setting. We at Inayat weddings can handle it all!

Wedding Budget Management
The Inayat Wedding Planners will help you execute your vision in the wedding budget that you are comfortable with. Keeping in mind your Indian wedding budget and costs, we will use our expertise and experience to plan, execute and manage your pre-wedding functions, wedding and reception as well as other required events.

Wedding Design & Décor
Wedding and wedding reception design and décor is not a simple undertaking involving just the big picture decorations like the flowers, mandap and basic lighting, it involves a variety of small and big tasks like seating arrangements, finding or creating the perfect centerpieces or stage backdrops, deciding on ambient or mood lighting and much, much more. We will conceptualize, create and coordinate themes and all your décor desires, in conjunction with your vision.

Vendor Management
We will refer established and professional wedding vendors for every area of your wedding. We are experienced in managing different vendors and deal with many reputed wedding vendors in different arenas on a daily basis. Our expertise in the wedding planning business has armed us with the knowledge of what exactly needs to be done and which questions you will need to ask the many vendors you plan to work with.

Wedding Venues
When it comes to wedding planning, choosing the perfect wedding venue is by far one of the most important things you need to decide in advance. After all, you don't want to be stuck with a venue that you're not happy about just because the location is not available. Inayat Wedding Planners deal with leading event planners and venue managers who have venues in Mumbai, Goa, Rajasthan and many other wedding destinations in India and internationally. With Inayat, finding a wedding venue becomes easy, with various options ranging from wedding and reception venues to locations for beach or royal palace weddings.

Wedding Menu Planning
The meals at your wedding and wedding related events are often used as a judging factor on how the whole event was. Even if you have the best decor and ambience, a sub-standard wedding meal pretty much kills the effort and quite literally leaves a bad taste in your guests' mouths! We will consult and coordinate menu selections, design, presentation, styling as well as bar and alcohol management. We will make sure you get the service you need with the appropriate service staff and presentation.

Wedding Photography
Your wedding day is one of those occasions where you would definitely want to capture every special moment. These are the pictures that will treasure for generations to come. When it comes to a wedding, taking pictures or a video is a totally in the moment job and not something you can recreate, so you have to find a professional who is excellent at what he/she does. We will arrange for wedding photographers to best suit your budget and requirements for your event celebrations, pre wedding shoot, bridal photo shoot and more.

Wedding Videography / Cinematography
The different styles of wedding videography tell your wedding stories in their own unique way. We will arrange for the best wedding videographers that suit your style and budget and help you savour every moment while you star in your very own movie.

Bridal Styling: Makeup, Hair & Draping
It is your big day and you want to look your best! Apart from your wedding attire, it is crucial to select the perfect makeup and hair stylist – one who you are comfortable with. It is your big day and you want to look your best! Apart from your wedding attire, it is crucial to select the perfect makeup and hair stylist – one who you are comfortable with. We also assist with fixing up appointment and trials as needed and finding the right accessories for your looks.

Booking your Wedding Choreographer
India Weddings are joyous celebrations, a time for unbridled happiness...and filled with lots of song and dance! Whether it is a sweet can-can at the start of your reception or the more enthusiastic ganga-dasas at a Sangeet, music and dancing can be so intrinsic and so very fun. The popularity of choreographed dancing is spreading further by our voracious love of romantic Bollywood movies and fairytale Hollywood flicks. Hiring a professional choreographer helps put together a show no one will forget and is a great way to celebrate not only the marriage but all the people involved in the wedding. We will arrange for a professional choreographer, along with our many other wedding planning services. If required we will also arrange for a proper location for dance rehearsals for the sangeet performances, 'first dance' etc. All you need to arrange for are your dancing shoes!

Wedding Transport Providers
If a wedding has to run smoothly everyone needs to get to the right destination at the right time. Arranging for transportation is an aspect of wedding planning that couples often leave for the last minute and that is recipe for chaos. You and your families definitely don't need that added stress! We will organise and coordinate on-ground transportation services for the couple, family and guests.

Pre Wedding Photography
Pre Wedding Photography is a trend that is catching up fast. It's a perfect get way for you and your spouse-to-be and a great way to take some lovely pictures for your personal album which you will cherish forever. This can be something as simple as a local photo shoot at some of your favorite hangouts or a destination photo shoot. A pre-wedding photo shoot can be a great way to relax and away from the stress of the wedding planning process. Pre wedding photography is a trend that is catching up fast. This is the 'Our Services' page of our website which gives an insight of how the process of organizing the event is carried out by the company and the different services it provides.

The page consists of the header, the navigation bar, the content and the footer.

1. The header section consists of the heading of the page with a pattern as the background image kept in repeat using CSS property background repeat. It's given box-shadow: 1px 2px 10px 2px black.
2. Then is the navigation tab which has been described previously.
3. The content section is created using one division and seven sections. Each section holds an image which is made to cover the area using CSS property background-size.
4. One of the sections acts as a link 'GET IN TOUCH' which is linked to the contact us page of the website. It has been given hover effects to enhance user experience. Each of the section is made to float left using CSS float property.
5. The written portion is placed in the division which is on float right. A fancy image of a border design with transparent background is placed on top to beautify the page. Proper paddings and margins have been used to make the page systematic.
6. At the bottom we have the footer which is same in all webpages.

Testimonials:

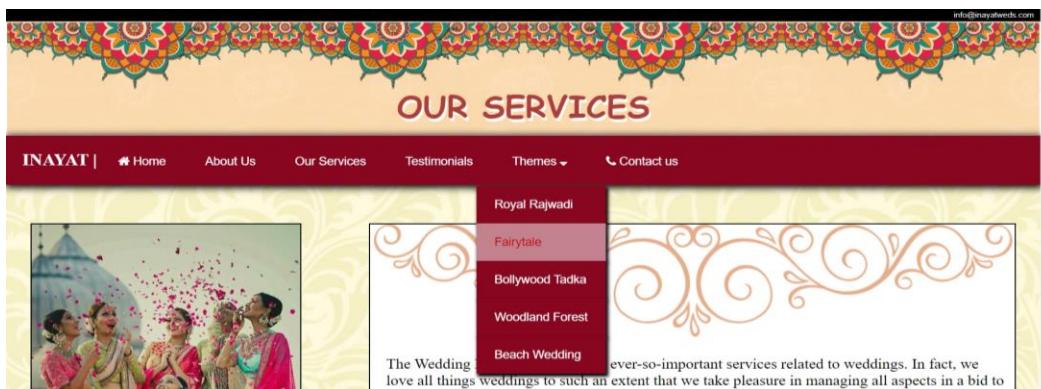

This is the ‘Testimonials’ page, which includes all the endorsement by couples whose wedding were organized by us in the past. This section includes wedding videos and Endorsement's.

The page consists of the header, the navigation bar, the content and the footer.

1. At the top of the page after the navigation bar is an Automatic Slideshow which was added using JavaScript.

2. Then we have our Company's Statistics of Happy clients, Project and Sponsors. This was added using an Unordered list and float left.
3. Next the page has all the endorsement along with their wedding videos all arranged in monotonous manner.
4. The video aligned to left using float and the written content to right using float property. The videos are on auto play so that whenever the person reloads the page it starts to play and enhances the feel of the page.
5. The content part is given shadow and border to enhance the look.
6. There are in total 8 divisions used for the content part.
7. At the bottom we have the footer which is same in all webpages.

We have got a dropdown which takes us to the different themes -

Themes:

The subpages under the themes section are:-

ROYAL RAJWADI

You've been waiting forever for that grand wedding. Get married in classy way and feel like a royal couple on your glorious wedding. For a royal wedding, nothing less than a classic palace would do, as your wedding venue. Find a heritage property, a hotel resort, an outdoor location or even a popular destination wedding location. Make bridal or groom's entries with traditional grand announcements with those shahnai and band wallas. You can go for live Nagada players instead of a DJ to fit in the theme. Make sure you add a touch of grandiose in menu too. Talk to your wedding caterer while deciding on the wedding food and include food and drinks apt for a royal themed wedding.

BEACH WEDDING

Beaches never disappoint any couple! So if you want to have your wedding besides the beach then choose the beach theme. Choose the perfect beach in Goa and hire a wedding planner so that they can give whatever you want for your dream wedding. They are alluring for more reasons than one; and being out in the open, in a romantic oceanfront setting while the wind and waves sing their praises over your union, is one of those. They are far from the typical traditional wedding, which is often hosted within a church, or another elaborate indoor setting.

The decorations should be subtle not too loud. The dress will be of pastel colors which will enhance your look and make you feel with the cold air. The food will be according to the theme, yes you can keep the authentic Indian food but don't forget to keep some perfect dishes which will compliment this theme.

WOODLAND FOREST

Are you looking for a rustic wedding but not necessarily the country/farm theme? You might like the woodland forest aesthetic! Woodland forest weddings have a natural atmosphere, utilizing large trees, wooded areas and nature-based decor. The overall decor for the ceremony is simple and natural. Oak logs, white floral, and white wedding chairs. The woodland forest wedding is another take on the always popular rustic wedding. A woodland forest wedding relies on the natural elements of the venue, and nature-based decor to bring out the theme. Greenery, wildflowers, and oak logs are all great elements to include in a woodland wedding. Woodland forest weddings remind me of the fairytale princess meeting her prince in the enchanted forest!

This is the 'Theme' page of the website that contains various themes customers can choose, the events according to the theme and the destinations. There are in total five themes – Royal Rajwadi, Fairytale, Bollywood Tadka, Woodland Forest and Beach Wedding.

The page consists of the navigation bar, a series of pictures, content, and footer.

- 1.The first division has some photos according to the theme and we have provided a black background to the division and white border to the pictures.
- 2.The next division consists of two sub-divisions: one for the picture and another for the description of the theme.
- 3.The picture is made to float left and the image to the right using CSS.
- 4.We have made all the five pages with the same basic layout for homogeneity.

5. At the bottom there is the footer which is same in all the webpages.

Contact Us:

This is the 'Contact Us' page wherein if the user is interested to know more and get in touch with the company executives, they can fill in their contact details, and the company will contact them.

The page consists of the header, the navigation bar, the content consisting of the form and the footer.

1. The navigation bar and the footer are same as in other webpages.
2. In the content section, a background image has been added covering the entire area.
3. Within the content section, a separate division has been created for the heading which is given a slightly transparent look.
4. A form is created with different input types and dropdown and it is given a background color of `rgba(1,1,1,0.5)` and has been positioned slightly towards the left to balance the image. It is given a border-radius of `5px`.
5. The form has been validated using JavaScript by creating a form and input class which is same for all. The form will automatically show a Alert pop-up if the user enters a wrong (in case of e-mails) or no input in the form.
 - The script takes values from Form class through
`document.forms["myForm"]["fname"].value` (where form name was mynames and input name was fname) and checks for the NULL value.
6. Once the form is submitted a pop-up od Successfully submitted pops up.

Our entire website has been made responsive using media query for PC, tablets and phones. Different font styles, font colors and lots of images have been used to make it appealing and improve its ability to attract the audience. 😊
